My name is Mitobo, patron spirit of the Indian burial ground located where the three lands meet. Every fifty years I appear among the living to observe this sacred ground. I represent the tribes that have been here before, and have entrusted the land unto you. It is your duty to use the land wisely, in a way as to honor your predecessors. It is for that pledge that I have come to collect. Since I was last here in a quiet cornfield, much has changed, much has risen. Many of these things extend far beyond my knowledge, but in these pages I will relate to you these changes through my own eyes.

Boy, they backed the right guy.

Guys, be nice to her.

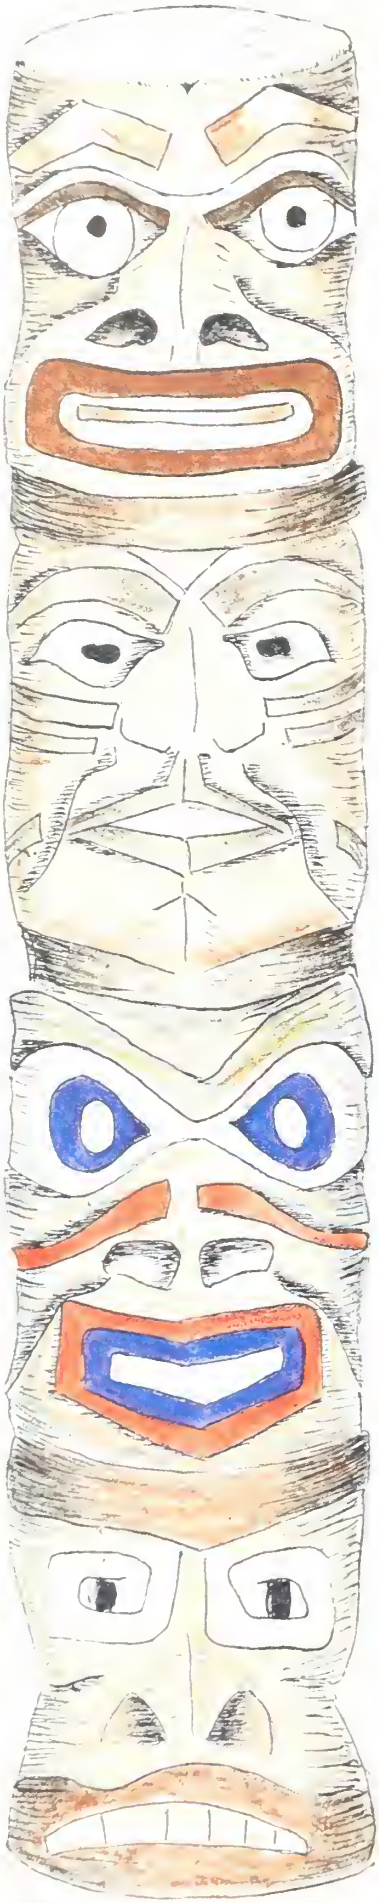
First I came upon a tribe of the younger ones you call Freshmen. At first they are shaky on their new legs, but they are eager to learn the ways of their elders. Their first year is not an easy one, with the big bearded one teaching their history and a swamp of homework to wade through. It is a year of arduous labor, but they are a strong group and they will stick together well.

Hey, aren't you on a TV show?

New Kids on the Block?

So what are you guys looking at anyway?

Is this what Freshmen do, just hang?

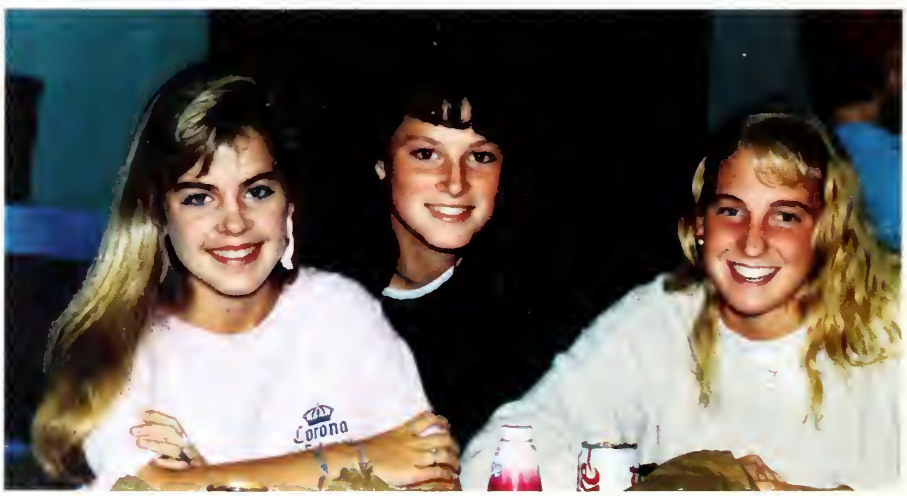


Nothing beats a hug.

Sup?

The second year of your learning is called "sophomore." In this year you will feel confidence in having mastered your first year, but do not be deceived; your work has just begun. Here you face Silas Marner and a funny little one by the name of O'Bara will make you climb trees in the dead of winter, so hold fast and beware!

Katie, Jen, Kerri - a happy lunch bunch.



Interesting class, huh Julian? Nice smile Dave.

Yet another budding Paley genius.

Munch a school lunch.

Hi Ho Hi Ho it's off to the bathroom to do our hair we go!

Exciting, invigorating, learning environment - RenPro!

Jen enjoys a quiet moment alone.

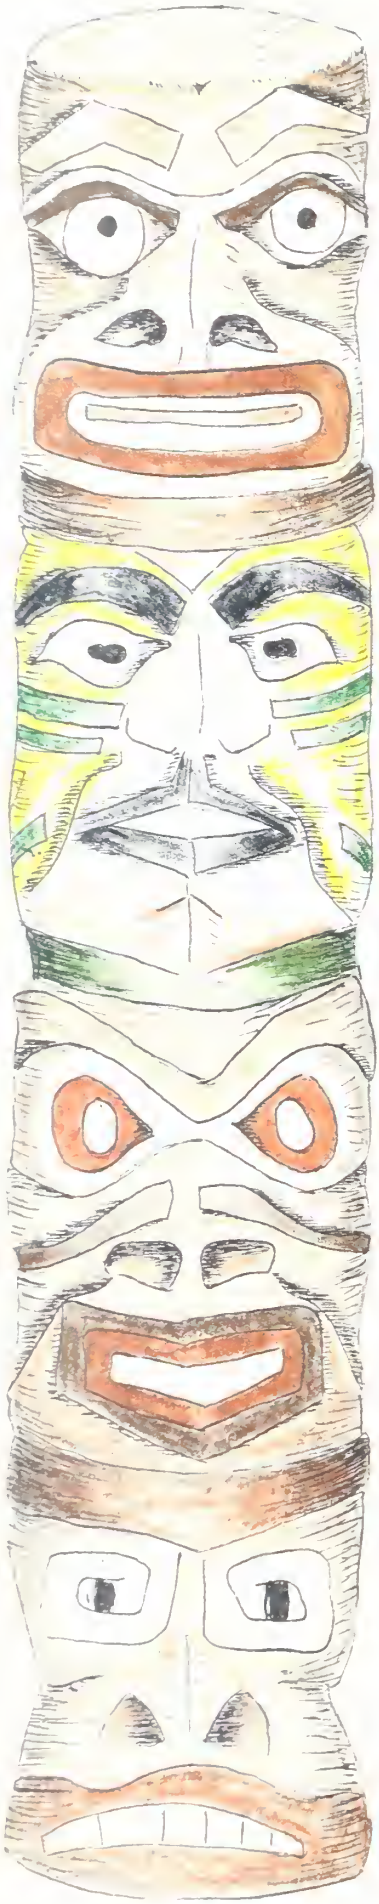
Daneell knows something we don't know!

Men like chicks with sticks.

Is that a headphone or a trombone?

So Doug, what exactly is a def duck?

Matt looking his best.



Paul knows all.

In this neck of the woods I find a group in their third year of learning. Waiting for their time of glory, these young thinkers fight sleep as they are taught chemicals and the study of their American ancestors. This is a year of waiting, but patience little ones, for your final year draws close.

Thoughts of Masco lunch make their stomachs turn.

Brian Squared.

I just don't get it.

I'm really a nice person, I'm just having a bad day

Oh no I broke a nail!

Jeff Emmons - techno-jock.

Here's your chance, make your own caption.

What are you looking at Shelagh?

Kate and Rebecca. Great!

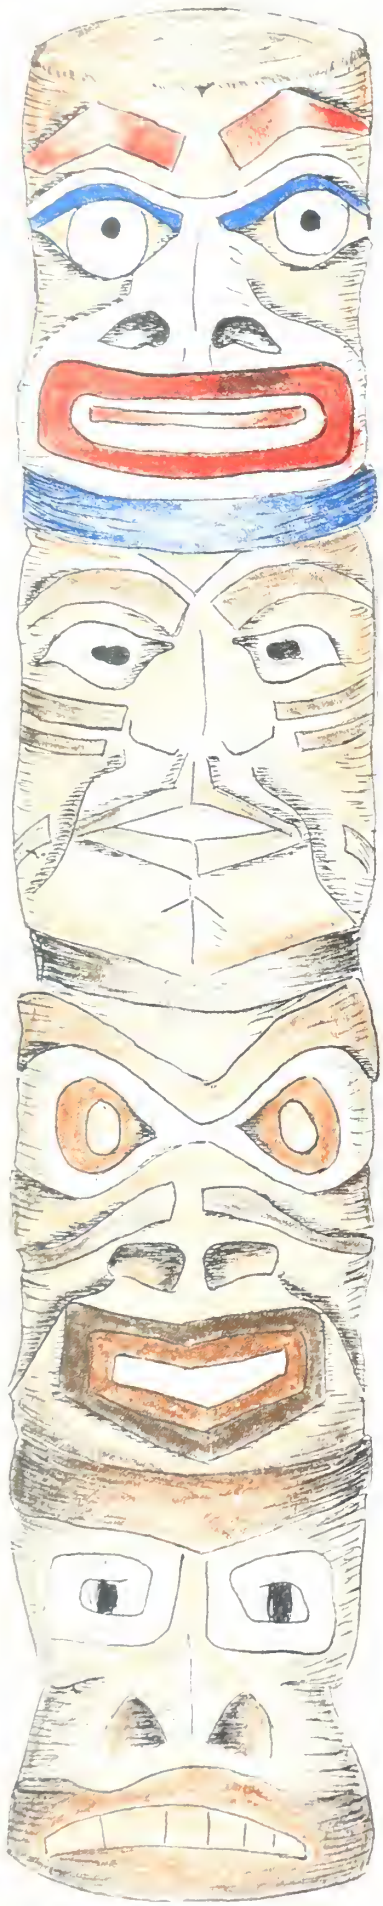
Meredith and Jen or Dana?

Gen Thiel really does have two eyes.

Leslie and Val, two cute gals.

Matt Johnson - the bionic man.

Strike a pose.



And here the tribe in their fourth year make their camp. They have conquered the obstacles thrown at them, and they have proved themselves ready. This senior year will lead them to reflect on their long path, remembering their good times as well as bad. They have earned the right to learn more, as well as a place in the world around them; their teachers can be proud. Now that your conditioning is done, I bid you good luck, and may the gentle wind always be at your back.

Is she environmentally aware or what?

"It's gross but it's real" - Larry Urich.

Physics is fun.

Hi I'm Kate, and I can do a split. (see p. 12)

Mark what are you smiling about?

I'll be signing autographs in the Cafeteria after school.

Senior study with Kirsten Giesel.

EDITOR'S NOTE

-Daryl Hemeon

Well, this is it. The 1991 Mitobo. I hope that the staff and I have given the year a good representation. MITOBO has traveled far to come see if his land is being used properly. I think this year will be one that will live on and make MITOBO, the Indian, proud.

My special thanks have to go to the Editorial Staff this year. Without them, there would be no yearbook.

Assistant Editor	Rebecca Foisy
Art Editor	Julie Skory
Photography Editor	Sean Corcoran
Visual Editor/ Coordinator	Jim Eveleth
Business Editor	Karen Newhall
Computer Editor	Bethany Gray
Editor-in-Training	Bart George

I would also like to give a special thanks to Mr. West, our new yearbook Advisor. He believed in us and gave us the support we needed, to make it through the year without killing each other.

I have always believed that the yearbook staff is an activity that the school should pay the editors to do. We have seen many a sunrise, trying to meet deadlines. This is the biggest and most time consuming, complicated, engrossing, fulfilling, mad-driving, fun, and migrain-making job I have taken on. Over worked and underpaid never meant more to me in my life. GOOD LUCK NEXT YEAR BART!

I would also like to thank the Senior class for coming through in the ad-drive. I think, so far, it is the only successful fund-raising activity.

Well, this is the book. I hope that this will last and give all of you memories that you can show your children when they go through high school.

To The Senior Class:

When You Read This It Will Be A Day Before The Biggest Moment In Your Lives. I Wish You All The Best In The Years To Come. May Your Minds Be Full Of Boundless Memories, The Ones That Remain Forever, And The Ones That Make You Who You Are. If Your Future Is Uncertain, May You Prevail In Whatever Endeavor You Choose. If You Future Is Certain, And You Know What Is Going On, Be Happy. Good Luck To All . . . See you In 1996 For The Reunion.

The Class Of 1991

EVENTS

HOMECOMING

In the time of the harvest moon, your classes gather in a festive time, but there was no bonfire to keep you warm. School spirit filled the air in friendly competition, and the freshman class' presentation was victorious. Tensions eased as the evening wound down in a dance of good will.

This year was the year of the restricted Homecoming. The lack of bonfire and parades attempted to dampen everyone's spirits, but plenty of enthusiasm was shown in the cafeteria decorating contest. The freshman once again thwarted the evil seniors even if their mountain was made into a mole hill. The Juniors went out with a blaze of glory. Many attended the Homecoming dance, where Rich Crosson and Kimberly Masucci were crowned King and Queen. The Seniors, in saving face once again, were triumphant in the half-time skit contest. "When the wall comes tumblin' down!"

Juniors dream about winning.

Boy Scouts?

Nice class participation, all four of you.

Shake the thing with feeling!

Bust that move.

Seniors lookin' fairly clueless.

Hey doesn't look that fun, but hey we won.

When we signed up for this, I didn't know we had to hold hands.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

On all hallows eve your clan gathered around the fire to indulge in a masquerade. Bumble bees, walking beer cans, and crayons abounded. All the while, I found myself plagued by the same question: Why?

Hey Sailor

Ya, RIGHT!

Stinger honker peter?

A fine looking bunch of kiddos.

We don't want to promote anything

I heard it through the grapevine

Heeeeeeeeeeey!

What a colorful group.

Meet the Flintstones, meet the Flintstones, they're the modern Stone Age family

SENIORS

Around the time of the great tree slaughter, the festive seniors gathered at the Fairgrounds by the river to meet the bearded one. Some were asked to leave your circle, including one named "Chaplin". The spirit of St. Nicholas was well represented, and as they all left the land by the river with giant smiles, they said to each other as they drove out of site, "Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night."

CHRISTMAS PARTY

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Some of your talented youths attracted a crowd of villagers to sing praise for the immortal Christmas vacation. Haunting melodies and bouncing rhythms drifted back through the forest to remind of a childhood long gone.

Top from left: power, melow, Jason, Jarvie.
Middle: Chorale, Chorale, Chorale
Bottom: Singers, Singers, Singers

Top Left: Katie and Maura show us how to toot.
Top Right: Ah, you shouldn't have.

Bottom: The Grand Band.

POWDERPUFF FOOTBALL
THE REAL WOMEN OF MASCONOMET

It seems that the braves and squaws have changed roles to play the game of football. The juniors practiced long and hard, but to no avail, as neither team scored. Both the ones named Whelton and Parsons played tough, making a fighting effort for their teams. Everyone had a good time, and maybe next year will bring a score.

Masucci makes the hit.

Courtney busts through the line

Get away from me Jen!

Parsons sets up . . . Parsons lets go a stinger.

Ladies of the hour.

Amy, Why are you smiling?

PROM

You donned your most precious garb for this event. Your squaws were the envy of all the surrounding tribes. Your braves were proud and strong enough to escort them. I would have to say that flowers are the only things that look good dead, and they were plentiful. It was good to see your smiling faces amidst the herd.

The seniors of old and now new gathered at the Sheraton in North Andover. The food was uncooked, but that didn't get anyone down, almost. People had trouble finding the entrance, but most of us made it anyway. Dinner, if that is what you want to call it, gave way to dancing. M.C. Hammer was the man of the night, U Can't touch this, ya right. Then everyone was "off like a prom dress" to various areas of enjoyment.

Kirsten and Doug prepare for the prom.

Who will be queen?

Na, na, I have more flowers than you do!

Masco, where men are men, and boys don't go to the prom.

The king and queen in their minute of glory.

Hey good looking, do you want to dance?

Above: I don't want it you take it Left: Give me a milk chocolate.

That must taste pretty bad doesn't it?

Hey guys, isn't there supposed to be a game today?

CANDIDS

Doug and his faaaaavorite teacher.

Ryan, put me down!

Hey you, put that out, this is a non-smoking yearbook!

I knew band was exciting, but . . .

DEDICATION

Your teachers are the ones who may make the biggest impression on you. They are different from many because they have chosen a life of service to others. I have observed all of your teachers, and although it was difficult to choose one above the rest, I was most pleased to see Ms. Susan Haas sharing her expertise in a very special way. This is our time to recognize Ms. Haas for all of her contributions to Masco, especially the Art Department. As a Photography teacher, she brings the art room to life. She has only been with you a brief three years, but she has deeply affected many students.

It takes a lot of patience to teach a subject where correct answers lie only in a student's imagination, but Ms. Haas has perfected this mission. She has a special ability to bring out talent in each of her students. Although she finds good in everyone, her classes are far from easy. She pushes students to their limits and demands 100% effort. Challenging students as well as herself, she always develops creative and innovative assignments.

Ms. Haas does not stop teaching after school. She often reaches out beyond her duties to be a friend. She takes a true personal interest in her students, taking the time to talk or help students in any way she can.

On that note, let us acknowledge Ms. Haas as a unique artist and teacher. The 1991 MITOBO is dedicated to her, and she is deserving of every page.

This is our turn to say good-bye to the Foreign Language Department Head, William Spencer. His retirement at the end of the year, marks the end of a long foreign language career at Masconomet. His contributions have been too numerous to count, and he will be sorely missed. Good luck on the golf course.

Aren't you an English teacher?

This man has claimed, "I have never been in a yearbook." Mitobo '91 says tough luck my friend. This most elusive character appears for the first time on these pages. Gotcha!

Enough already, it wasn't that funny.

The brains of the operation.

What are you looking at, punk?

"Hey Mr. Lowe,"
"Yes, Mr. VanPelt."
"Who IS that guy on the end?"

Trust me, you don't want to know what he is smiling at.

D.E.C.A.

The Distributive Education Club of America is a program of instruction, mainly for seniors, which deals with retailing of various items. The students also learn marketing management. It enables students to learn by actual experience. They run the store that gives you the sugar buzz, and a great time was had by all.

Model UN

While most of Masco's populace is basking in political unawareness an elite group of students plunges into world politics and international affairs. Masco's UN team has proven time and time again their abilities in dealing with world problems. There were a few more world problems this year, something about a war? Well anyway, a great time was had by all.

NHS

The people behind the blood drive were lead by Ms. Tenanty this year. This group of students has the higher grades. This "Motley Crue" of merry boys and girls represents Masco's finest academic quality. A great time was had by all?

Chess Team

Masco's chess team is one of the school's lesser known activities. The team members often get a strenuous workout over the chess board, and in the off season they keep in shape by studying different chess strategies. Check out the Trophies. A great time was had by all.

(Row 1): A. Cogley (again!), R. Shaw, D. MacDonald (Row 2): C. Gori, J. Stevenson

To be a thespian or not to be a thespian? Yes indeed Masco has its own group of thespians. Students making up this elite club are involved in all aspects of Masconomet's stage productions. When they get their act together (pun intended) they go into Boston to see how real actors work. When they actually act, a great time is had by all.

Science Team

Splat! It was just one of the many encounters this courageous bunch encountered this year. Braving that thin line between knowledge and ignorance, the team members prove that chemistry is the key to success, often leading the league in point totals, providing the team with a great time, which incidently was had by all.

(Row 1): J. Moss, I. Milde, B. Hanser, R. Mohns (Row 2): D. Bowers, B. Blatt, J. Stevenson, C. Kucera, R. Mayerick (Row 3): M. Holden, C. Gori, K. O'Connor

A.V. Club

These two fine upstanding young men provide all of Masco's audio-visual needs. They bring you your VCR's and tape players. Quite frankly Masco could not survive without their services. And believe it or not, a great time was had by both of them.

Refer to previous caption.

WBMT

The Rock of Boxford! This is Masconomet's radio station. Where you can always request your favorite tunes, if you remember the number. These Disc Jockey's are devoted to bringing the hits, hour after hour, and a good time was had by all of them.

Peer Ed

Peer Education is that group of students which, while it maybe hard to find, is willing to help you with problems that you wouldn't even tell your guidance counsler. This group is dedicated to serving the student body. And this brings forth a great time which was to be had by all.

Thomas Jefferson Forum

The Jefferson Forum is a hearty group of volunteers dedicated to community service. The forum was involved in many different areas this year, including: visiting the elderly, helping out Beverly Hospital, Big Brother and Big Sister program, and many more stimulating projects, and a great time was had by all.

S.A.B.

What is a SAB? It is not the automobile that Sean Corcoran drives. It is the student advisory board. This group is very important to the students at Masco. They act as the students' voice of school committee meetings. They let the school members know what is really going on at Masco, to show them that a great time is being had by all.

D. Bernard, M. Taber, C. Riley, A. Hagerty, S. Green

(Row 1): B. McPherson, R. Schricker, L. Walter (Row 2): C. Kucera, C. Bellefeuille, C. Gori, M. Mayerick

F.P.S.

Future Problem Solvers is that group which everyone makes fun of, but which no one understands. Having resigned to the fact that FPS is the only ying to their yang. They give it their all and have a great time.

Stage Crew

While the fear of being caught on stage when the curtain opens often hides in the back of their minds, they fight this fear to operate lighting, build sets, and get a show off the ground. Always welcoming helping hands, the stage crew is a diverse group, and great time is had by all.

(Row 1): J. Hale, K. Runk, L. Denmin (Row 2): E. Mohns, A. Barton, R. Mohns (Row 3): K. Nicholson, L. Brown, M. Sanger (Row 4): M. Dinn, B. Blatt, J. Weiner, T. Barter

CHEERLEADING

Football Cheering

The Football Cheering season started off with the arrival of a new coach, Katheryn McQuinn. It was a memorable experience for both the girls and Miss McQuinn. The squad consisted mostly of seniors, but there were some new faces in the crowd, as they were led cheering by their captains Sarah Alford and Brandy Debarardinis. Every game was a new experience for each girl as they led the football team and fans with spirit and cheers. The seniors on the squad, who grew up with cheering through their high school days, will look back upon the season with fondest memories.

How do you make your hair do that

I pledge allegiance .

Look, fuchsa-apricot!

Basketball Cheering

This year's Basketball squad was small with only eight girls. They were led by senior tri-captains, Stephanie Ciulla, Laurel Denman, and Sue Darroch. The squad was very energetic and enthusiastic while cheering. They led the Basketball team to some victories, but also some losses. Along with some of the players cheering with us, the season as a whole turned out to be a learning experience, where new friendships were made. Best of luck is wished for next year's squad!

YEARBOOK STAFF

WHAT DO THEY DO, ANYWAY?

Well here we are, the Yearbook Staff. At the time of this writing no one has been institutionalized or died in their sleep. This year's bunch has been quite diverse, ranging from your garden variety art freaks (just kidding Julie) to the Hemeon family cat.

Yes, we're all alumni of dear old Yearbook University. Well, we really didn't graduate, but hopefully you really can't tell. That was just one of the many adventures this staff has gone through -why is it blue- and we're sure Bart will cook up a few next year. Hey Julie, why is that cop following us?

Now that all our grades have been butchered, like thousands of innocent trees, we would hope that you enjoy reading this, if you don't let us know (not). We have seen the sun rise many a night and Mrs. Hemeon has baked a lot of brownies. Thanx Mrs. H!

This year we also had a new advisor. Yo, Mr. West word up Hommie. We wish him all the luck in the future. Hey Beth, "Where are dem boys?" Hey Julie, "Wake up and die!" Hey Jim, are you "gonna be a daddy," or what? Hey Sean, "do you think it will be O.K., people might think we're weird, I don't know if we should." "Hey guys put those squirt guns away and let's get busy," Daryl. Hey Bart, "underachiever and proud of it man!" Hey Karen, "Are you working at the tanning salon today?"

Hope you enjoyed the commercials, we hope they were a good break from Kathy Double-Cheeseburger. We have accomplished great things this year, maybe this is one of them.

Hey Bart, check it out that looks like fun!

(Row 1): S. White, Bashful, Doc, Sleepy (Row 2): Grumpy, Dopey, Doubtful, Bart

Hey you, I know you, I know you.

There's definitely something fishy here.

Bart what are you doing with that, it's mine!
Left: Hey Karen, you Zoo Cat you.

Nice Sneakers, Julie look out for the purple elephants!!

TRAINING CENTER

The Training Center offers an opportunity for developmentally delayed students to receive an education in a high school environment. This gives them the chance to interact with other students and use Masco's facilities. The program is made much more valuable because of help from student volunteers. The Senior class should be proud to have two of the students graduating in 1991. Congratulations to Gail and Joanna.

Joanna and Gail hangin' out at the Christmas party.

Yo, whats up?

Joanna, what are you doing?

Champions. The Boys' Cross-Country team won the Cape Ann League title this year for the first time in thirteen years. Captains Dan Alperin, Doug Winship, Tom Froning, and Daryl Hemeon led undaunted chieftains to a season that was not marred with a single loss.

The teams' first real competition was Pentucket which the team took apart. Next was the teams' archrival, Hamilton Wenham. The rival was no challenge, thanks to the extreme talent and depth of the best team in years. Junior Micheal Smith and Freshmen Jason Trembly were strong performers this year. Smith also captured the team award.

Jimmy Hagan and Brian McGinley, who will lead the team next year along with Smith, also ran seasons that inspired other runners as they past them.

The season could not have been a success without the words of Coach Raymond Sinnott, "That's not what the money is for."

Special thanks to Rob Martin our assistant coach. He ran with us, he ate pasta with us, and gave us rides in his Prelude. Go Marshmallow Man!

Good luck to all the returning runners. Next year should be a blast! Get ready for repeat miles, 20 minute pickups and another year of Topsfield Hill.

Dan says, "See ya later!", to all his opponents.

After losing our top two runners to the graduating class of 1990, the bunnies came in the fall of 90 full of pessimism. How could we beat N.A. when last year we had only won by 2 points and they had all of their runners returning?

Although the bunnies were doubtful, Mr. Casey (as usual) was full of confidence. We were lucky, and acquired Jenn Barry from the field hockey team who ran #3 for the team most of the season. Steph Sawyer, Leigh Segalini, Beth Legacki and Jill Gregory all came back strong, and the rest of the runners added to the depth.

To our surprise, we killed every team that opposed us, even N.A. (by 17 points!) We were crowned C.A.L. champs for the 4th consecutive year. We, then, after a rainy, muddy suicide (suislide?) race at Franklin Park gained the title Eastern Mass Division II Champions. Next, we moved out to Northfield Mountain in West. Mass. to the All-State meet. In sub zero weather the girls captured 3rd place (only 7 points behind the Mohawks!) This is the best the girls have ever done at the All-State meet!*

Mr. Casey believes the 1990 X-C Bunnies is the best team to run through Masco. For Mr. Casey to say that is quite an accomplishment after all of his undefeated teams.

Congratulations Bunnies! Good Luck next year!

Our victories were not due to mere luck, but hard work and determination.

The Masconomet boy's soccer team enjoyed an unexpected successful season last fall. The team led by tri-captains Doug Prouty, Andy Forman, and Ryan Herlihy was expected to finish third or fourth in the Cape Ann League.

After the loss of David Bernard during double sessions, one of the five players with true varsity experience, the upcoming season appeared even more bleak. However, the great leadership of the three captains, coupled with the great dedication and enthusiasm of the underclassmen brought the team its third consecutive C.A.L. championship.

The team took great pride in its two regular season wins over North Andover. Other highpoints included 1-0 post season wins over Burlington and Danvers, and an appearance in the Division 2 North Finals. The close knit relationship of the team demonstrated how a team can win with a little bit of skill and a great deal of desire.

League all-stars included Herlihy. Jeff Mihalchik, Brad Trull, and the all-league players were Forman and Prouty. Forman made the all-eastern Mass. team and Prouty was named to the All-State and All-Scholastic teams.

Next year's team has the capability of being even more successful. The only defensive position that will change will be Mihalchik's dominant presence in the net. W.T. Bernard, Matt Pinkham, Trull, and Herlihey will supply the leadership next fall.

The Masco girls soccer team maintained tradition by being once again successful. The team led by co-captains Molly Taber and Kirsten Geisel lost to only two teams last season.

The success of the team was evident in its second consecutive North Div. II final appearance. Highlights of the season included an impressive victory over Beverly and a tournament win over C.A.L. competitor Georgetown, in overtime.

The individual accomplishments of the team members deserves recognition also. Geisel was nominated to the All-League team, while Taber, Merideth Wilner and Jen Daly made the All-Star team. Geisel was also nominated to the All-EMass and the All-State teams.

Wilner and Daly were selected to the Boston Herald All-Scholastic team. This scoring duo will continue to reign in the C.A.L. next year.

Next year's season looks to be just as promising as the past. Katie DeBruyne and Wilner will captain the team next fall. The players guaranteeing Masco success include, Jen and Dana Schwefler, Andy Robinson, and Kirsten Johnson. With talent like this coach Jim Murphy must be optimistic about the upcoming season.

Although the Field Hockey season got off to a rough start this year, having lost nine starting players from last year, we still had many talented players!

Our first win came when we played North Andover, with Liz Saitta and Kathie Caldwell leading the scoring. Katie was great in the goal, saving an incredible amount of shots. The defense was strong with Abby and Courtney making some nice saves for us, too. Our last game was close, with Gwen scoring another beautiful goal, but unfortunately North Andover beat us 2-1. This was definitely a building year for Masco's Field Hockey team, but we had a lot of fun-maybe one too many pasta parties?! The 1990 Golf team was very competitive in the Cape Ann League, proven by its solid 11-4-3 record.

Masco soundly defeated many of its opponents, leaving no doubt who was superior. The season was highlighted by Coach Roger Lauzon's 200th career victory as coach, and a dramatic, last-match victory against North Andover, spoiling their undefeated season. The team got strong efforts all year long by C.A.L. All Star Doug MacGregor and senior Travis Larrabee, as well as newcoming senior Jason Weaver. Chris "Whiff" Maclin, Jake "The Pilgrim" Riley (and his threatening last match) and Kevin McLaughin, became starters and influenced the teams' success. The team was relatively inexperienced, so the strong performance was impressive. Everyone on the team had a lot of fun, and are looking forward to a triumphant campaign in 1991.

The Masconomet Boys Basketball team bounced back from a disappointing season a year ago to surprise many people by going 11-9. The squad worked hard during the season and started out winning its first four away games, while losing its first four home games. A late surge at the end of the season sparked hopes at a state tournament birth, but a loss to a lesser Triton team aroused all the hope. Seniors Mike Lindquist and Tim French paced the Chieftain scoring throughout the year. We beat Newburyport twice, the first time winning in overtime on a last gasp Mike Lindquist jumpshot, the second blowing the Clippers out at home. The biggest thrill, however, was the 16 point upset of the first place Amesbury Indians.

Lee Spencer, Dave Daniels, Brad Denton, Jeff Milhalchik, Travis Larrabee, Pete Richardson, and newcomer Russ Farland all contributed to the Chieftains success. It was, on the whole, an enjoyable season. Hopefully, this team turned Masco Basketball back in the right direction, and the future only looks brighter with many returning players ready to perform.

Girl's 1990-1991 Hoop

Although we lost the starting line up from a former Cape Ann League Champs team, we showed everyone that we weren't rebuilding, we were simply reloading. The season opened with a disappointing loss to Georgetown, but a six game winning streak soon had the team with much more confidence and looking towards post-season play in the state tournament. The addition to the team of three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman gave the team the depth we needed for a successful season. The season was packed full of adventures and laughs, especially with our lone "mature" senior Jen Parsons, adding to the fun. A definite key to our success was the colorful slogans we played by . . . "Press 'em like a pair of pants", "Nail their coffins shut", "Go out there and bury them" and "Get in their shirts!" Without the support of all our fans and especially our coaches, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Canan, Masco Girl's Basketball wouldn't have been the success it was.

Mike gets mean for Masco.

Did you see her? Kilroy, stop drooling!

This season the Masconomet Boys' Indoor Track team returned to the Greater Lynn League as former 10-0 champions. The outlook was good, almost the entire team from last year returned. We also acquired new and unexpected talent.

Matt Kilroy competed in the 50 yd. hurdles for his first time and broke the school record with 6.8 seconds. Dave "Miller Time" Miller also picked up first places in the 50 yard dash, while tieing the elite school record at 5.6 seconds.

The strong distance team helped ensure our victories. Legendary Dan Alperin went unchallenged in the mile and broke his old school record with 4:31. This year Dan broke the record in the 1000 when he ran it for his first time ever. He also holds the indoor record in the 2 mile. Kevin Franey had good performances in the 600 yard, and Doug Winship was strong in the 2 mile. Also, Lance Russell went undefeated in the shot put with his best of 44' 11". In addition, this year the mile relay team of Mike Smith, Kevin Franey, Doug Winship and Dan Alperin tied the school record with 342.5 seconds.

The championship came down to our meet against North Andover. Impressive performances were see that day by both teams with several broken and tied records. Unfortunately, in the end we were defeated by the talent of North Andover, by a difference of 4 points.

The outlook is good for next year, and another undefeated season looks probable. The talent of the underclassmen foreshadows great years to come.

Ooh, that's gotta hurt.

The Masco Girl's Indoor Track team proved they were a hard team to beat this season with another winning record. The team was exceptionally strong in all events, from the shotput to the hurdles. There was no contest for first in the distance events, with Stephanie Sawyer, Jill Gregory, and Beth Legacki running for first. Highlights of the season included Jen Barry breaking the record at Lowell High School track for the 600 yard race, while Chris Davis jumped five feet in the high jump. Andy Robinson and Kirsten Johnson were unbeatable in the hurdles, while Tricia MacDonald excelled at the shotput. Also there are many underclassmen who will make a great relay team next year. With the talent of all the underclassmen, Masco's Indoor Track team will surely prove as successful next year. Good luck everyone!

No, seriously, I don't want to hear it, run anyway.

Yo Jill, chill!

BOYS SKI TEAM

After watching your "ski" team, I have many questions. What is the attraction? Is it the graceful speed, the wind whipping in your face? The pretty jackets? Maybe the risk in careening down a mountain side to avoid obstacles provides the rush for this winter sport.

The boys had an excellent team this year, but unfortunately its potential wasn't recognized. The juniors, Matt Gagnon, Lane Murphy, Josh Jamison, Joe Gallagher, Jason Janicke and Brett Sojda, along with one freshmen, Rob Holloway, made up the bulk of the team's scoring positions. The team will lose only a couple of skiers this year and with a little luck and maybe a little misfortune on the part of St. Johns, Masco will make a serious run at position one or two in the league next year.

The Girl's Ski Team tore down the slopes of Bradford this season. Heather MacLean led us to victory again and again. Other outstanding performances throughout the season were turned in by Aubrey Spath, Amanda Jones, Tiffany Carroll, Jen Camps, and Becky Bateman. We have a chance to be co-ed league champs with North Andover, and have qualified for the states. Overall it was a winning and fun season. Coach Worth told us that falling isn't the end of the world. It was a year to remember, and next year looks like more success.

1990-1991 GIRL'S SKI TEAM

Because we lost five,
we knew we had to strive.
To be number one,
something had to be done.
The ski season started out slow,
with no snow on which to go.
But in the air there was a chill,
and suddenly so white was the hill.
With our first meet came rain not shine,
so instead we learned how to take a high line.
Our films were filled with proper technique,
and with our new form we would look chique.
When we finally got out on the snow,
our skis did not quite flow.
Our meet against North Andover brought many frowns,
But we were determined not to let it get us down.
With Heather as our star,
our goal wasn't that far.
Other freshman came through,
and we knew what we could do.
As the season progressed,
we started beating the rest.
We began to gain points left and right,
we were ready to fight.
With Coach Worth as the captain and us as his crew,
we all worked together to prove what we could do.
Sinking or sailing we'd give it 100 percent,
and from then on, up, soaring we went.
Captain's Melanie and Christie roused much spirit,
and the other teams began to fear it.
We just smiled and turned our cheek,
because we are strong, and they are weak.
With Heather in her GS suit,
she turned out to be quite a brute.
With Aubrey right on her rear,
our problems seemed to disappear.
Jen and Becky competed for third place,
and were always comparing times at the base.
Gia and Kerry were close behind,
but no one seemed to mind.
We had many faithful fans,
who didn't know of our greater plans.
Being league champs was only for show,
but states was where we wanted to go!
Beating Andover our second to last meet,
gave us that long awaited defeat.
On March 6 we head to Berkshire East, for our meet that is last, but certainly not least.

by Melanie Hatch + Christie Destribats

Those that weren't mentioned in this poem, it was only because we didn't have enough time. This was a year to remember and next year looks like continual success!

SWIM/DIVE TEAM

The waters have existed since long before our great continents. Water has been a part of man since the beginning and many have tried to tame it. This young swim team is gaining its sea legs and they are looking ahead to another great season.

So who said we couldn't get a Masco swim/dive team? Well, we proved you all wrong! The first ever MASCONOMET SWIM TEAM has made many waves in its very successful season. With only eleven swimmers, the team put on a great show, placing well in many of its competitions. In what is felt to be the middle of the night, the swim team was off to the pool for practice before school even began. O.K., so we didn't win any meets this year, but with only eleven swimmers, that's almost impossible. Anyway, it's not winning that's important, but rather the fact that we finally have a team. Our diving team was led by Kelly Clifford along with Leigh Barnes. Our swim team consisted of Reed Newland, Kerri Dolan, Kristin Doherty, Amanda Smith, PJ Stambaugh, Carrie Stambaugh, Jen McWeeny, Katie Michaud, and Katie DeBruyne. A special thanks to Dr. Carroll. We need YOUR support to keep this tradition going, so, JOIN THE MASCO SWIM/DIVE TEAM!
